JEWISH EDUCATION

This degree focuses on the professional development of Jewish educators, emphasizing teaching strategies, instructional techniques, and curriculum design for specific Jewish text-based disciplines. Take advantage of the opportunity to study in the nation's capital, which is home to multiple Jewish day schools and dozens of congregational school programs as potential employers. Prospective students may also find employment in area Jewish nonprofits such as Hillel International, BBYO, Avodah, Moishe House, and Jewish Community Centers.

SAMPLE COURSEWORK INCLUDES:

- » Teaching Jewish History to Middle and High School Students
- » Strategies for Teaching Biblical Texts
- » Rabbinic Judaism and the Teaching of Rabbinic Texts

HIGHLIGHTS

- » Two year, part-time program
- » Participate in a supervised practicum in a Jewish school
- » Immersive cohort experience in and beyond the Jewish community
